Welcome to Bar Rioja

This bar is dedicated purely to the wonderful wines from the Rioja region of northern Spain, our aim being to showcase the exciting variety and quality of the wines and share our enthusiasm for them with you. We fell head over heels in love with this region and its wines since our first visits and have been back on countless occasions over many years. We are constantly impressed how every time the wines are simply getting better and better.

We love the wines from all over Spain too, and admire the energy, skill and enthusiasm of the country's winemakers. Spain has long been recognised for its innovative winemaking, and gastronomy too of course, and continues to offer a huge range of styles full of identity and character. Whilst we love the different grape varieties and diverse range of wines from around the country, we decided to dedicate this bar to just the Rioja region, as it offers a multifarious range of wine styles with strong identity at every price point.

Whilst it was once a region steeped in tradition, with its oak-aged wines justifiably popular, and now better than ever, today it embraces a very broad variety of wine making techniques so offers a broad range of styles.

The wines have huge appeal from deliciously satisfying entry level examples to those that compete with the very best wines from anywhere and offer fantastic value for money at every level. This is especially the case at the upper echelons, where the finest Riojas hold their heads up against the absolute best from anywhere on the planet.

We're keen for everyone to be able to easily try every wine on the list, so we offer every wine by the glass, and use the Coravin system for the finest wines to keep them in optimum condition. Enjoy!

THE REGION

Rioja is Spain's most popular wine region and internationally famous. The province lies in the north of Spain, approximately 120km from west to east and 40km north to south, and just over an hour south of Bilbao. It borders the Basque Country to the north, Navarra to the north east, Aragón to the south east, and Castilla y León to the west and south. It is protected by the Sierra Cantabria mountain range to the north and the Sierra de la Demanda and Sierra de Cameros ranges to the south, which offer breath-taking backdrops to this beautiful region.

The Ebro river carves through from its Cantabrian source in the west to its Mediterranean delta in the east and is fed by seven tributaries. The region is rural with a handful of significant towns and dozens of tiny villages dotting the stunning landscape, and encompasses three zones which from west to east are Rioja Alta, Rioja Alavesa and Rioja Oriental.

GRAPES

The king of Rioja red grapes is undoubtedly Tempranillo, producing more than ten times as much as the next most popular grape variety Garnacha. However, Garnacha makes superb wines in its own right, either as single varietals or in blends, and was in fact the dominant variety in the past. Other important red grapes mainly used in blending, or also occasionally as single varietals, are Graciano and Mazuelo and Maturana Tinta.

Viura (known as Macabeo in other parts of Spain) is the number one white grape. Others include the increasingly popular Tempranillo Blanco, Malvasia de Rioja, Garnacha Blanca and Maturana Blanca. Regulations now allow a few international varieties though we have stuck to grapes that we feel give the character and identity so important to the region's wines.

WINE STYLES

At Bar Rioja we have chosen a range of wines where we aim to showcase the very best of every style available. Reflecting the tradition of the area there are more oak barrels in Rioja than any other wine producing region on the planet. Oak ageing can of course enhance the character and complexity of what already is a good wine, and unquestionably it helps produce some fabulous wines, though is not in itself a guarantee of quality.

The traditional way to make wines in the region is highly regulated, and wines are classified genérico (young wines with little or no use of oak, or outside of the traditional regulatory system) or oak-aged in 225 litre barrels under the Crianza, Reserva and Gran Reserva headings. Winemakers in Rioja are known to be master blenders, optimising the end result through judicious selection of grapes from vineyards across entire region. That has always worked very well and continues to do so. However, alongside these there are now increasingly a myriad of more innovative styles, which may either be aged in varying sizes of barrels, whether the most traditional North American, or French or eastern Europe oak, or in amphorae, cement tanks or stainless steel for the purest expression for a young fruit forward wine. These often astonishingly good and hugely complex wines are every bit as much Rioja, just the more dynamic face of it and here to stay, very luckily for us.

TERMINOLOGY

GENÉRICO / COSECHA

Unoaked, fresh and fruity and designed to be drunk young.

This category also includes wines that do not conform to any regulated ageing system and made entirely in the way the wine maker feels is best. These wines are often world-class and up there with the very best from the region.

The next 3 styles must use 225 litre oak barrels:

CRianza

Whites – a minimum of 6 months in oak and 1 year in bottle.

Reds – a minimum of 1 year in oak and 1 year in bottle.

RESERVA

Whites and rosés – a minimum of 2 years ageing of which 6 months must be in barrel.

Reds – a minimum of 3 years ageing of which 1 year must be in oak and 2 years in bottle.

GRAN RESERVA

Whites and rosés – the ageing period is 4 years of which a minimum of 6 months must be in the barrel.

Reds – a total minimum of 5 years ageing of which 2 years must be in barrel.

VINO DE ZONA

Wines made from grapes that come from one of the three specific zones (Rioja Alta in the north-west, Rioja Alavesa in the northern Álava province, and Rioja Oriental in the east) to emphasise its own unique personality and terroir. Up to 15% of the wine is permitted from outside that region which must be stated on the label.

VINO DE PUEBLO

The winery and grapes for these wines must come from a distinct area around the village which must be named on the bottle.

VIÑEDO SINGULAR

The vineyard must be a single plot of land with vines a minimum of 35 years old that must be hand-harvested and under the same ownership for at least 10 years. They also need to achieve 93 points or more. Yields are restricted and must be managed in an environmentally friendly manner.

BIG GUNS

Our own made-up term for wines we regard as fabulous and deeply rewarding that are officially given Genérico status, as although they may be aged for some time in various vessels, they are outside of the traditional ageing system and may not necessarily fall into any of the three categories immediately above. We feel they hugely deserve strong recognition.

THE LIST

Whilst the task was somewhat daunting this really has been a labour of love. Where do you begin with a huge wine region offering such a diverse range to choose from, and of course tens of thousands of individual wines produced from hundreds of bodegas. Not an easy task, challenging for sure but enormously fun.

First of all we started with a decent range of outstanding suppliers importing a terrific selection of Rioja wines, and a few months later after loads of research delving ever deeper we made our selection for the tastings. We've tried to discipline ourselves into having a relatively short list.

“Wine is 75 centilitres of fun!” Tim Atkin MW

The bar itself is diminutive so we physically can't store too many, but more importantly the pleasure of wine is as much about enjoying it in the company of friends as actually tasting it, so why slow things down by making our guests spend ages poring over a self-indulgent mighty tome? The selection is made through a series of blind tastings of initially hundreds of wines (and more each year) carried out by Richard Bigg, Camino co-founder, along with Head of Drinks (and People!) and hugely experienced and passionate wine lover Hannah Duffy Russo, and Nacho del Campo our Executive Chef, who hailing from Vitoria in the Basque Country knows a thing or two about Rioja. And besides he's a chef, so clearly has finely tuned tastebuds.

Hard at 'work'.

Whilst the region is chiefly famed for its red wines, which account for 90% of overall production, we proudly showcase a disproportionate number of whites, many of which these days are truly exceptional.

The astonishing range of wines and styles from the 14 permitted grape varieties, and many more indigenous historic ones too that feature in many wines in small quantities, not only field blends, makes the region right now one of the most exciting anywhere on earth. And each year it just gets better.

Try various different styles, ask our staff and have fun!

ALL WINES BY THE GLASS

The wonders of Coravin

We use the ingenious Coravin system that allows us to have the entire list available by the glass and keep 'opened' bottles in perfect condition. This way you can affordably try the most special wines simply by having a 75ml taster size and compare different styles. For Richard, the founder, this is like being a kid in a candy shop. So. Much. Fun. Regular glass sizes are 125ml or 175ml and all wines are also available in 250ml.

OLD VINES – Many wines are described as having been produced from 'old vines'. But what is the significance and the benefit of this, and how old is old?

In Rioja vines are officially regarded as 'old' at 35 years, and many are way beyond that. With old vines you are getting some real history; they are also stronger and more resilient, and invariably result in wines of greater richness, depth and complexity. Rioja has a large number of ancient vines, some of the oldest not just in Spain but anywhere at all.

At the end of the description any of our wines made from old vines will have a note to give a bit more of an understanding and appreciation for the wine and its growers: This is shown at the end of the description as for example: (OV: 60 years)

VINTAGES – We don't list the vintages of the younger wines as due to frequent changes we'd be reprinting the list far too often, so please just ask to see what vintage we currently have on.

VINO TO GO – Like it so much you want to keep enjoying at home?
Or know someone who'd love this as a present?

— Menu — ‘Laurel’

Pincho culture from Logroño

Calle Laurel is the most famous food street in the Rioja wine region, with dozens of bars on the street itself and loads more nearby. Many of the bars specialise in just one dish served pincho style (just a couple of bites), and the idea is you go to lots of different bars and have a bite in each, along with a copita of vino of course.

At Bar Rioja we serve a variety of pinchos, which you can see on display – just ask our staff for whichever ones take your fancy. The dishes vary according to the season, and all are priced from £2.75 each.

In addition, we have a selection of charcuterie and cheese below – always a classic choice with your vino.

Enjoy!
